San Diego Children's Discovery Museum Hosts "Little Explorers Spring Camp"

Escondido, CA.-- San Diego Children's Discovery Museum is thrilled to host its Little Explorers Spring Camp, April 11-15, 2022 for children ages 4 to 8 years old.

This April, the Museum is inviting budding naturalists for a week of museum exploration during Little Explorers Spring Camp! Campers will put their environmentalist thinking caps on and learn about the Museum's growing garden through daily art and science activities.

The Museum's Discovery Camps provide hands-on enriching educational opportunities for children during their school breaks. With access to all Museum exhibits and curated programming throughout the week, campers will leave the Museum each day with a greater understanding of STREAM (science, technology, reading, engineering, art, and math) concepts.

"At the Museum, we pride ourselves in creating authentic hands-on learning experiences that spark a love of learning. Through Little Explorers Spring Camp, we're providing children with opportunities to build foundational fluencies in STEM education while feeding a natural wonder about all things from blooming flowers to buzzing pollinators! These camps are a terrific opportunity for children to spend their school holidays engaged in a way that fuels their curiosity and imagination." said Sarah Loftus, Education Manager of Camps and School Programs at San Diego Children's Discovery Museum.

Pre-registration is required for this event. Enrollment is $300 for members and $350 for non-members.
