San Diego Children's Discovery Museum celebrates cultures and community with the 2017 SDCDM Roots Series

April program celebrates the Pacific Islands, April 29

(Escondido, Calif. – March 17, 2017) San Diego Children's Discovery Museum (SDCDM) is excited to announce the fifth year of the SDCDM Roots Series. This free series is part of the Museum's mission to celebrate and educate children and adults about different world cultures in our community. The second program of the year is Saturday, April 29th from 2:00-4:00pm and will highlight the Pacific Islands.

The afternoon includes storytelling by Literature Comes to Life, Polynesian, Tahitian, and hula dancing performances by Motu Nehenehe Polynesian Dancers, as well as a live ukulele performance and traditional snacks from the Pacific Islands for visitors to sample. Visitors can also experience all the hands-on exhibits at SDCDM for FREE!

Throughout the year SDCDM presents six FREE community events, each highlighting different cultures in our community. This year the Roots Series will celebrate Sweden, Pacific Islands, France, East Africa, Mexico, and Thailand. Each event takes place from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. and features cultural performances, activities, and crafts that help children and adults gain a deeper understanding about different cultures while having some fun along the way.

The SDCDM Roots Series is made possible thanks to funding from The Nissan Foundation and The County of San Diego. For more information on the SDCDM Roots Series visit www.sdcdm.org.

ABOUT the San Diego Children's Discovery Museum (SDCDM)

San Diego Children's Discovery Museum's mission is to inspire children to learn about our world through exploration, imagination, and experimentation.
